Partnering With Parents hosted a Week of the Young Child Event at the Oak Park Library. The Paint and Sip event included story time, joyful painting, and juice boxes.

On April 11, Partnering With Parents hosted a Week of the Young Child Event at the Oak Park Library. The Paint and Sip event began with a story time featuring Mouse Paint, a story that celebrates the joys of creativity. Then, the group discussed the importance of process art (letting kids create without a pre-planned outcome) and how mixing colors can be an excellent STEAM (science) activity for young learners. The group sipped on juice boxes and painted the afternoon away! Check out some of the artists and masterpieces in the photos below.

Partnering with Parents supports parents to grow as their child's first teacher, meet other parents, and get connected to needed services. The program is currently enrolling for Oak Park and River Forest families that are pregnant and/or have children ages 3 and under.
